How to publish a paper in the Faculty's Discussion Paper Series at RePEc

RePEc is basically a decentralized bibliographic database, in which researchers (in Business Administration, Economics, and related Sciences) from all over the world publish their works.

To fulfill publication requirements from the "Promotionsordnung", parts (i.e., papers) of a cumulative dissertation may be published within this discussion paper series. The series for dissertations is reachable at: <http://econpapers.repec.org/paper/pdndispap/>

The series administration is organized by the vice dean for research. Current administrator is Dilan Okcuoglu Celik (Postdoc at the Chair of Managerial Economics).

To add a paper to the series please send an email with the following attachments to forschungsdekan@wiwi.uni-paderborn.de.

- The paper in pdf-format.
- Some metadata about your paper.

There is a template file, "DIStemplate.rdf", that should be filled. You may open it with a simple text editor. Please do not open it with MS Word or something similar. All information that needs to be inserted is already marked (by three dots and explanations in brackets). Please ignore all other entries and leave them as they are. An example file is "ExampleDIStemplate.rdf". The files are downloadable at the Faculties Website (Section Researchers).

The remaining steps for publication will be done by administration. It might take a few days before you can find your paper on RePEc. If you have any questions feel free to write an email to forschungsdekan@wiwi.uni-paderborn.de.

In case that copyright regulations require removal of the paper from the series, please send an email as well, so that the text can be replaced by the reference. This is possible, since the paper remains on servers at the University of Paderborn.
