The screenshot shows the website for the Transition Phase Bachelor - Master program. The header includes navigation tabs for STUDIES, RESEARCH, FACULTY, and DEPARTMENTS. Below the header is a banner image of the university building at night with the text "UNIVERSITÄT PADERBORN" and "International Campus". The main content area features a breadcrumb trail: Paderborn University → Faculties → Faculty of Business Administration and Economics → International → Incoming → International Students → M.Sc. International Economics and Management → Transition Phase Bachelor - Master. The main heading is "Transition Phase Bachelor - Master". The text explains that if admission requirements are not fully met, students can enter a transition phase to gather missing ECTS credits. It mentions that up to 20 ECTS credits of master courses can be registered during this time. A link is provided for a detailed description. Below this, it notes that international students can find a list of available courses in the module catalogue, choosing "Courses available in English for exchange students". Finally, it mentions an additional reading course for international students focusing on economics, quantitative methods, and statistics, with a link for details.

Transition Phase Bachelor - Master

If you do not fulfill all but most of the admission requirements (maximum 30 ECTS credits missing) at the time of your application you can enter a transition phase. It allows you to gather the ECTS credit requirements currently lacking from your bachelor study program. You can study at the Faculty of Business Administration and Economics in order to attain the admission requirements for the MSc International Economics and Management. Depending on the number of ECTS credits missing it may be possible to additionally register once for up to 20 ECTS credits of master courses during this time. A detailed description of the transition phase Bachelor - Master can be found here.

International students who have to rely on courses taught in English can find a list of available courses in the module catalogue. Please choose "Courses available in English for exchange students" and the academic year.

An additional course is offered for international students in the transition phase Bachelor - Master which focuses on contents in the fields of economics, quantitative methods, mathematics as well as statistics. This reading-course is named "W2401-04 Economic Topics and Methods". Details of the respective content are available here.

Guide for International Students

International Bachelor Students in Transition Status for Admission to the Master Program “International Economics and Management”

The Faculty for Business Administration and Economics offers international students opportunities to obtain the missing ECTS-credits required for successful admission into the master program ‘International Economics and Management’ through the BA transition phase.

- The “Transcript of Records for Admission” lists the requirements yet to be completed. It specifies the number of missing ECTS-credits, as well as the areas into which these ECTS-credits fall.
- This document provides an overview of the actions necessary to complete these requirements for successful admission into the Master Program.

UNIVERSITÄT PADERBORN Modulkatalog

Durch die Auswahl des Studiengangs und des Semesters, erhalten Sie eine Übersicht der wählbaren Module. Die zu belegenden Pflicht- und Wahlbereiche sind innerhalb Ihres Studienplans bzw. Ihrer Prüfungsordnung geregelt. Beachten Sie bitte bei Ihrer Planung, dass den Modulkatalogen das Modulhandbuch der Fakultät zugrunde liegt. Dieses Modulhandbuch wird einmal im Jahr durch den Fakultätsrat verabschiedet werden und ist nur für das aktuelle Studienjahr gültig. Modulbeschreibungen früherer Semester finden Sie in den archivierten Modulhandbüchern. Insbesondere weist die Fakultät darauf hin, dass Informationen zu „Gewichtung für Gesamtnote“ nur für Studierende relevant sind, die ihr Studium ab dem Wintersemester 15/16 aufgenommen haben. Für Studierende, die vor dem Wintersemester 15/16 eingeschrieben waren, sind jedes Modul pauschal einfach gewichtet.
